

WHAT IS FALUN GONG?

Falun Gong (also known as Falun Dafa) is an ancient Chinese spiritual discipline in the Buddha School tradition. It consists of moral teachings, a meditation, and four gentle exercises. Falun Gong's core teachings are the values of Truthfulness, Compassion, and Tolerance.

Approximately 70 –100 million people were practising Falun Gong by 1999. The former Communist Party leader Jiang Zemin perceived its popularity as a threat to the Party's total control. A violent multi-billion dollar campaign to eradicate Falun Gong was launched in July 1999. Hundreds of thousands are still detained in prisons across China.

KEY TARGETS for organ harvesting

- According to Doctors against Forced Organ Harvesting, the explosion in Chinese transplant activities exactly coincides with Falun Gong incarceration rates. The boom of the Chinese organ transplant industry is built on that foundation.
- Independent reports have concluded that incarcerated Falun Gong practitioners remain the key targets for forced organ harvesting due to their large numbers in detention and the healthy state of their organs.

IMPACT ON CANADIANS

- Transplant tourism - patients fly to China for quick transplants. The organ is obtained by murdering the “donor” and can make Canadians unknowingly complicit in this crime.
- Aftercare cost and health risks - organ recipients return back to Canada for post-operative treatments paid for by the Canadians' health care system.

LATEST GLOBAL ACTION

• US House Resolution 343, 2016

The US House of Representatives unanimously passed a resolution condemning China's state-sanctioned forced organ harvesting from prisoners of conscience, including large numbers of Falun Gong practitioners.

• Canada, 2015

Canada's Parliamentary Subcommittee on International Human Rights adopted a motion condemning and calling for an immediate end to the state-sanctioned organ harvesting from prisoners of conscience in China (including but not limited to practitioners of Falun Dafa).

• EU Resolution, 2013

European Parliament passed a resolution opposing forced organ harvesting in China.

SHORT WAIT TIME

Average wait time in days for a kidney transplant

Source: www.dafoh.org

In Canada the median wait times for a kidney transplant are between 2-5.8 years, reported in 2012.

In China, the instant availability of organs in over 700 transplant-capable hospitals has led to the chilling conclusion that a kill-on-demand process for organ procurement is in place.

Estimated execution numbers in China

Source: Dui Hua Foundation, The Wall Street Journal

The Chinese Government claims that 90% of China's organ transplant sources come from executed prisoners. However the number of executions has dropped 10% annually since 2002 and is far less than the number of transplants taking place. China's transplantation industry has boomed to hundreds of thousands of transplants, with a minimal volunteer donation system in place. Only about 130 people in China signed up to donate their organs between 2003– 2009. The number has since risen to approx. 1500.

According to state-run hospital websites advertising Organs for sale, a patient can procure an organ such as a liver, lung, cornea or heart for up to $160,000 U.S. Billions of dollars have been made by Chinese government officials and state institutions.

CRITICAL EVIDENCE

New report - JUNE 2016

A ground-breaking report, An Update To Bloody Harvest & The Slaughter was released in June 2016.

Authors:

- 1. David Matas - International human rights lawyer, author of State Organs and co-author of the investigative report Bloody Harvest, Nobel Peace Prize nominee.
- 2. David Kilgour - Former Canadian Secretary of State and Crown Prosecutor, co-author of the investigative report Bloody Harvest, Nobel Peace Prize nominee.
- 3. Ethan Gutmann - China analyst and investigative Journalist, author of The Slaughter.

Key findings:

- 1. Mass volume - 60,000 to 100,000 transplants a year have occurred in China since the year 2000 - this may place the total number of transplants (and possible deaths) in that period to over a million.
- 2. Sources - Non-consenting prisoners of conscience are the primary source of organ procurement in China.
- 3. Key targets - Incarcerated Falun Gong practitioners remain the main target for unethical organ procurement among others.
- 4. Party-Led crime: Organ pillaging in China is a crime in which the Communist Party, State institutions, the health system, hospitals and the transplant profession are all complicit.
